

Praise for With Malice Toward One

“Mike Person's ‘With Malice Toward One’ perfectly spells out what went on behind the Lincoln assassination.....A great history experience which proves once again that History is Cool and NOT just about "dead people and dates!"

-Betty J. Ownsbey

Alias "Paine": Lewis Thornton Powell, the Mystery Man of the Lincoln Conspiracy

“I wish Mike Person’s ‘With Malice Toward One’ had been available before I retired as a teacher. I certainly would have used it in my classroom. Mike’s book provides the perfect way for students to learn about the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. Not only is it richly illustrated, it also includes a glossary and suggestions for further reading. The book is the ideal textbook because students of all ability levels can benefit from it; as the pages are turned there is explanatory text on the left hand side and comic book illustrations (with text) on the right hand side. For students wanting to learn about the Lincoln assassination there is simply nothing available that even comes remotely close to Mike’s book in terms of quality and educational value. Congratulations to Mike Person for producing an invaluable addition to Lincoln assassination lore.”

- Roger Norton

Founder of The Abraham Lincoln Research Site and the Lincoln Discussion Symposium

“I just had the opportunity to review what I hope will become a welcomed addition to the small field of children's books related to the Lincoln assassination. Mike Person, has produced a great graphic novel titled ‘With Malice Toward One’ on the subject. I will also be sending a complimentary copy to the supervisor of social studies for our local school system with a gentle nudge that each school should have at least one in their library - if not the classroom. “

- Ms. Laurie Verge

Director of the Surratt House Museum in Clinton, MD and senior volunteer for the Surratt Society.

*"We are pleased to announce a unique children’s book on the Lincoln assassination, which will also fascinate adults who were raised in the Classic Comics era. Mike Person has created a graphic novel suitable for grades 4 - 8 and titled it ‘With Malice Toward One.’ Its format is unusual in that he prepared it for classroom use. The comic pages are on the right - hand pages with related text to encourage more reading on the adjacent left pages. Dialogue portions are highlighted so that the story could be acted out in the classroom. There is also a glossary of terms related to the story. It is being very well received.”*

- The Surratt Courier